Sunday Special Edition

What makes a good dad? If you had to list distinguishing characteristics of a dad, what would be on your list? According to our modern television culture, the model father is dumb witted, often hurting themselves or getting into tight situations. So again, what makes a good father?

A father is the protector of his family. He is the one that checks the doors to ensure they are locked and secure. While walking around town, the father/husband is vigilantly looking out for danger and preparing himself to protect his family. A father looks after his family.

A father loves his family. A father hurts when he sees his son or daughter upset and crying. The father wants to soothe the pain and hurt of the ones he loves so dear. A father often sacrifices his desires and passions for his own family. A father comforts his family when they are hurt.

A father is Mr. Fix It. He is the one that fixes the lights when they blow or the toilet when it does not flush. The father ensures the vehicles are well maintained and ready for the vacation trips or back to college trips.

For a moment, consider your heavenly Father. God will protect you. God is love and He loves His family. God is the ultimate handy man, Mr. Fix It. I mean, He created the entire world in 6 days. He also fixed our issue with the sin that separates us from Him. God provided us a plan to become holy again through His Son, Jesus Christ. God loves you and wants you to be saved from this crooked and perverse generation. Have you thanked God for being a great Father?
