Sunday Special Edition

Tomorrow many will have friends over for a nice BBQ cookout or have hamburgers and hotdogs. It is a day off for many people. Many use this time to enjoy being outside or going to the beach! By the way never go to Port Aransas in the middle of the day on Memorial Day, but I digress. This holiday is one to remember our soldiers who gave their lives for this country in battle. Over the course of our nation's short history, we have seen war and conflicts. Many of our nation's best have served with honor and some have paid the ultimate sacrifice. While this holiday is great to enjoy friends and family, it is a day to remember these soldiers who died in war.

Early on in a soldier's career, he or she is taught about selfless sacrifice. It is in the Army's creed that one must recite often in training. I have had the pleasure of being around soldiers quite often in my life. One of the things that soldiers talk about is the brotherhood of soldiers. Soldiers willingly risk their lives to help another brother or sister in combat. As a Christian, do we have the same mindset to help our brothers and sisters? Are we willing to help them in their time of need? In Romans 15 and Galatians 6, we read about how we must help bear burdens and look out for each other. In 1 Peter 2, Peter describes a house being built upon living stones. A house needs every aspect to be strong to hold up to the storms of life. Are you helping those who need you?

Yet above those things, the best example of selfless sacrifice is our Lord and Savior, Jesus. In Philippians 2, Paul describes what Jesus gave up and took upon himself to save us. Jesus left heaven to be beaten, mocked, ridiculed, humiliated, and killed for sinners. May we never forget His wonderful sacrifice!
