Sunday Special Edition

"Where were you when the world stop turning?"

For many, this day 20 years ago, lingers in our head. We remember this day for so many reasons. For many Americans, we watched as the second plane hit the South tower. We were shocked and mourned as we watched the towers fall. We heard countless stories of heroism on that day. I could tell you about the firemen who rescued so many and still continued up, or Rick Rescorla and his security team that after leading Morgan Stanley employees safely out was last seen going up further while singing in order to keep people calm. This day was filled with people sacrificing their lives to save others or help others. Sacrifices that many will always remember.

As a Christian, each day of our lives we remember another great sacrifice. Paul writes in Philippians 2 about the sacrifice of Jesus. Jesus, God's only begotten son, left Heaven to become a bondservant and be crucified for each of us. A sacrifice that He did not have to make but choose because He loves us. I have watched some videos on the tragedy in New York on 9/11. Several survivors mentioned all the firemen that kept going upstairs to rescue people. These firemen and others knew these people were in their biggest moment of need, so they continued their job. Jesus knew that mankind was in their greatest time of need. In Romans 5:8, Jesus sacrificed His life for us while we were still sinners. We were separated from God and needed His sacrifice to "bridge the gap." May we as America never forget the sacrifices of many for our country. However, for Christians may we NEVER forget the sacrifice of Jesus that saves me from my sins. ~Kenneth
